Planning board eyes "adult entertainment"

by Jeff Nazzaro

With an eye on controlling possible "adult entertainment" in town, the Wilmington Planning Board began Tuesday night to discuss the creation of a zoning by-law that would stipulate where such businesses could locate.

"The only way the town can regulate [adult entertainment] is to establish certain areas in town where these businesses would be allowed," said Planning Director Lynn Duncan, who made it clear to the board that First Amendment rights protect adult oriented businesses.

Duncan said at present, any adult business could set up shop in town. No prospect for such a business has as yet presented itself.

And while Duncan, members of the planning board and Police Chief Bobby Stewart - who sat in on the meeting to offer legal expertise and advice - all said they hope the town never has to face the prospect, if it does, the addition of an adult entertainment zoning by-law will help the town more effectively deal with the situation.

At this preliminary stage, the board acted as if the possibility of adult entertainment businesses coming to Wilmington were strong. While there is no real way to know just what those possibilities are, those types of businesses moving into town is the situation the board is preparing for.

As such, the board, Duncan, and Stewart weighed options, including limiting an "adult entertainment zoning district" to one small area of town, one large area, or several small areas. Stewart said that while a single area would likely compound problems associated with adult-oriented businesses, it would also be easiest to patrol. The crux of that issue is thus revealed: would the town rather have multiple locations for such businesses, or risk the development of a mini Combat Zone?

The board also looked at the regulation of adult-oriented businesses once established. A total ban being in violation of First Amendment rights, a municipality may still regulate such businesses if those regulations are "designed to prevent crime, protect the city's retail trade, maintain property values, and generally protect and preserve the quality of the city's neighborhoods, commercial districts, and the quality of urban life," according to a report furnished by Duncan to the board citing the 1986 U.S. Supreme Court ruling in the case of City of Renton, et al v. Playtime Theaters, Inc., et al.

Duncan argues in her report that "Given the findings from the experience or studies of other municipalities ... it is clear that these uses have adverse secondary effects, including: increased crime, adverse impacts on public health, negative impact on retail business climate, and declining commercial and residential property values. Duncan cites studies on the matter emanating from 14 cities across the U.S. and conducted by such agencies as police departments, planning boards and city councils.

A by-law, Duncan said, would "give the town the ability to minimize secondary impacts by controlling where these businesses would be allowed."

Stewart, offering his professional impressions of areas in this state featuring adult-oriented businesses, came to much the same conclusion. He said such a business "attracts a different clientele" than other businesses. He cited problems ranging from increased theft and drug abuse to prostitution and general "lewd and lascivious" behavior. Stewart favors the implementation of a new by-law.

"We certainly need to look at this, follow the lead of communities around us who have established a zone to protect the quality of life around them," he said.

Duncan said that the planning board will revisit the issue in more depth at a later time, and perhaps at a special meeting of the board. The final goal of the planning board is an adult entertainment by-law. That by-law would be presented to voters at the Special Town Meeting slated for Oct. 28.

Tewksbury man arraigned in connection with Sullivan murder

by Jeff Nazzaro

Neil Cluff was arraigned Wednesday morning in Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge on one count of perjury in connection with the murder of 17-year-old Amy "Brandi" Sullivan of Tewksbury. Sullivan's body was discovered bludgeoned to death in Wilmington on Aug. 7.

Cluff, 36, of 54 Michigan Rd., Tewksbury, was ordered held on $1,000 bail. A pretrial conference is scheduled for Sept. 23, with actual trial "months and months away," according to Jill Reilly, a spokeswoman for the Massachusetts District Attorney's Office.

Before a Middlesex County Grand Jury in Lowell on Aug. 16, Cluff testified that the last time he had seen Sullivan was during the month of June and that he never saw, nor did he drive Sullivan anywhere in his van, according to a brief summary of evidence compiled by Assistant District Attorney James E. Tamagini Jr., who is prosecuting the case against Cluff.

The summary is not intended as a definitive or complete statement of the facts in this case, but was submitted by Tamagini "so as to assist the court."

Tamagini states that on Aug. 20, Officer Richard Hallion of the Chelmsford Police Department testified before the same grand jury Cluff did that while on patrol at the Chelmsford Mall "[Hallion] observed a van registered to [Cluff] illegally parked in a fire lane. [Hallion] approached and asked the female sitting in the passenger seat to move the van to which she responded she could not because she didn't have a driver's license."

The female passenger allegedly identified herself as Amy Sullivan to Hallion. When Hallion returned to his cruiser, he told the grand jury, Cluff emerged from the mall and entered the van, according to Tamagini, who said Hallion warned Cluff not to park in the fire lane before allowing him to leave.

Tamagini further states that State Trooper Owen Boyle testified before that same grand jury that he interviewed Cluff on Aug.

16. When confronted with the information provided by Hallion, Cluff allegedly "ultimately admitted it to be true" to Boyle. Cluff also allegedly "went on to describe for Trooper Boyle in detail where he had been that day with [Sullivan], what they had done, and who they were with."

Reilly said that aside from Cluff's arraignment, the investigation into the murder has yielded no new developments.

Zeneca continues investigation

by Jeff Nazzaro

A preliminary investigation by Zeneca Resins, Inc. into the chemical vapor release at the Main Street company last weekend is continuing, with a report due for a community advisory panel meeting to be held either Sept. 10 or Sept. 11.

Zeneca officials addressed around 35 angry and frustrated residents last Tuesday at Town Hall, releasing "preliminary" information regarding the vapor release at that time.

Zeneca General Manager Liz Armstrong said last week that the investigation, begun last Wednesday, would produce a more accurate chronology of events than was available immediately following the accident. That chronology was supposed to be complete "in a few days," but Wednesday, Armstrong said the company would wait until its September meeting with residents to release any new information.

The date of that meeting is uncertain because Zeneca, which originally had the meeting planned for Sept. 11, is now trying to accommodate the work schedules of some residents.

In addition to the chronology, Armstrong said the issue of communication between the company and its residential neighbors will be addressed. Armstrong said officials of the Zeneca have maintained a presence in the nearby neighborhood - the development off of Woburn Street comprised mainly of Brentwood and Morse avenues - talking to residents there on a one-to-one basis.

"We're making sure we continue to listen to neighbors concerns," Armstrong said.

The accident is believed to have occurred sometime around 8:00 p.m. last Saturday (Aug. 17) when barrels containing several chemicals were emitted vapors, causing strong odors in the residential area and discomfort of varying degrees to the people living there.

Granting wishes, breaking down walls - one person at a time

by Jeff Nazzaro

One person wanted a hot air balloon ride, another a ride on an airplane and a third wished to feel the rush of a snowmobile trek. Others have wanted fried shrimp, homemade donuts and mint juleps. Not earth-shattering requests, but for residents of Wilmington Woods Nursing Home, these were special wishes - and they have all come true.

In a little more than a year, Wilmington Woods has made 20 such requests realities through its "I Have a Wish" program. And when all residents have had a wish granted, it will start over again.

The most recent of the wish recipients is 90-year-old Mary Doherty, who wanted simply to see her bedridden older sister Nora.

"It's a wonderful idea," Activities Director Nancy Kelley said of the program. "They will take the littlest wishes and turn them into an event so all the other residents can share in the wish."

And while Doherty's wish was not something the rest of the residents could readily be a part of, that is the case for most. When one resident wanted to taste those homemade donuts, staff and residents alike had a cooking event, with fresh, homemade pastries for everyone. And when the snowmobile ride came to pass for another happy resident, all his friends and neighbors at Wilmington Woods were invited to hop on as well.

"A lot of people think all's quiet in the nursing home," Kelley said. "But there's a lot of events that go on through this program."

Wilmington Woods administrator Mark Latham sees the program as a perfect way to keep the residents active and stimulated while remaining a part of the larger community. In an age when seniors often enter nursing homes for short periods of time before returning home, the program allows nursing home residents to feel like they are still a viable part of the world: gone are the days when elders are tossed into nursing homes to be forgotten, and to forget.

"The program allows us to minimize the institutional feel and focus on individual programming," Latham said. "These people are still active, viable, voting citizens. We want to break down the wall between the community and the nursing home setting."

That wall was smashed last

Monday when Doherty, who with the help of a walker does pretty good on two feet, was helped into a van en route to Malden, where her 92-year-old sister Nora Kilroy lives.

The two sisters were born in Ireland and made their way to this country, Nora first, followed by the rest of the family, including Mary, in the 1920s. The sisters remained close, and Mary, who married but never had children, lived with Nora for a time in the old two-family house in Malden that is her wished for destination. Mary has a niece who lives in Wilmington.

On this day, Mary is apprehensive on the quick ride up I-93 from Wilmington to Malden. She holds a small box bearing a cross, a gift for her religious sister and asks more than once when she will get there. Kelley and Activities Assistant Helene Zuccaro, who is driving the van, reassure Mary. She has not seen her sister in two years.

Four long, wide wooden steps guard the front of the Kilroy home, with another 14 narrow steps winding up to the second floor. It is not an easy trip, especially for a nonagenarian who has some trouble walking. But with help from Kelley above and Latham below, the steps are conquered and the reunion is mere feet and seconds away.

The logistics of getting the two sisters together had become too much for Nora's son Jim, who himself is in his 60s. It is not his age so much as a lack of tools and training that makes it difficult. The professional staff at Wilmington Woods has both and with them made the reunion possible.

"Because of conditions at both ends it was very difficult to put it together," Jim said. But he believes the get-together will benefit both women. "This will keep their mind off their pain and keep them going a little bit," he said.

And now Mary is once again with her sister. She takes her hand and Nora, who calls her sister "May", reports that it has not been a good day for her. Mary presents her with the cross and with great effort leans over the railed bed and kisses Nora on the cheek. Then, as sisters will, they chat.

Family members and day-to-day life are the main topics, hints of their once-thick Irish brogues detectable through their aged voices, brightened by the company each shares this day.

"Keep on the way you're doing," Mary advises as it's time to go.

"I'll try. Sometimes I don't feel so good," Nora replies and then pauses for a long second. "I'm all right now that I talked to you today, May."

Mary Doherty leans over to kiss her sister, Nora Kilroy, who has help from her son, Jim. Mary's wish, to see her sister at least one more time, was granted last Monday through the "I Have a Wish" program of the Wilmington Woods Nursing Home, where Mary is a resident. Nora lives in Malden (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

SUMMER JOBS AND AN IRA

High school and college students all over the country are heading back to school with whatever's left from their summer jobs. Each has an opportunity to make a fabulous investment in the future - via an IRA. Few young adults are willing to look that far ahead - but their parents could!

Like anyone with employment income, a teenager can open an IRA up to his or her total income or $2,000, whichever is less. But a youngster's IRA need not be opened with earned income. A parent's gift, within the $10,000 a year tax exclusion, can be used instead.

What makes a child's IRA so worthwhile is the tremendous opportunity it offers for compounding. A contribution of $2,000 by a 15-year-old, invested to return eight percent per year, would grow to $93,800 by the time he or she is 65, to $137,800 if it rests undisturbed until 70.

Football - you bet

by Jeff Nazzaro

Hey listen, do yourself a favor and tuck those Red Sox safely into the dream file of the old heart and mind and gear up for football season. Much better, no?, to watch your favorite grid-ironers crush opponents than to put everything you have into baseball and the Red Sox and get crushed yourself. Keep an eye peeled, of course, but remember - they've let us back in only to demoralize us again. Then again, maybe we should ignore the Olde Towne Team. The Red Sox are like a pot and won't boil over into World Series glory until we all stop watching.

Well, that's settled, and just in time for what is shaping up on all visible fronts to be a fantastic football season.

Saturday, Boston College is in Hawaii (tough assignment, huh?) to take on the fighting Rainbows. BC is no behemoth itself this year, but if college football is your game, there are of course scores of teams around. I myself like Syracuse - having spent a little time there - and Super Sophomore QB Donovan McNabb. Don't forget about more "local" schools as well, with Patriot League and Yankee Conference football always high-class and exciting. And this year, for the first time ever, UMass Lowell and Merrimack College will take their frozen rivalry off the ice and onto the field at Cawley Stadium.

The Sunday after BC looks for its pot of gold in Honolulu, the New England Patriots, your New England Patriots open their season and Super Bowl quest in another tropical locale - Miami. Having been to lovely Foxboro Stadium for a couple preseason victories, I, for one, am sufficiently jacked for this NFL season. The Patriots don't look too good to be true, which is a good thing. They just look good, and, barring some miracle from the (don't even think about it) Red Sox, or their Foxboro futbol roommates the Revolution, stand about the only chance of bringing a professional championship of any kind to this region.

All this college and professional type pigskin will merely pass the time until the real games, the one's featuring kids who three years ago delivered your newspaper, begin. High school football returns to Tewksbury and Wilmington on (let's right now call them crisp, early autumn Saturdays) Sept. 14, the Red against the Burlington, the Cats against Newburyport.

In Tewksbury, it would be unfair to hope for anything approaching what was accomplished last year, though last year, nobody really expected what happened to happen. Ya know? And with several fine athletes from that Super Bowl team returning, 1996 will offer yet another thrilling edition of Tewksbury High School football. There will be a key early road game this year against Lowell at the aforementioned Cawley (far and away the best locale in the area to watch high school football). Based on last year's Tewksbury-Lowell matchup at Doucette Field, where the Lowell crowd was very large and very loud, Tewksbury's faithful should pay a visit up north to the "big city" to see what will be a highly entertaining game. Not that they all shouldn't. The Merrimack Valley Conference should be its usual competitive, no, make that cut-throat self and Tewksbury will once more be right in the thick of things (how many Bob Aylward-coached teams over the years haven't?). True fans of Tewksbury High School and football in general have no excuse not to take in their share of games. All but one contest this year (at Central Catholic, played in Lawrence Stadium, 10 minutes up 495) will be either at home or in an adjoining town. Then of course there's Turkey Day and Wilmington, who will host this year's affair. Isn't it just a little more fun to beat those Wildcats on their own field?

Uh, oh yeah, Wildcats. In Wilmington there is a new coach who has a whole host of talent left over to work with. After many miserable seasons, this could be the year. Of course, don't get too excited. No matter what the circumstances, it's always hard to go from near the bottom of the barrel to the top of the heap in a season, but if someone is to do it, don't count these guys out. All they need, really, is a little confidence, a little boost (an opening day win against Newburyport would go a long way). Fan support, real fan support could easily provide the spark that gets the confidence flowing and the winning ways going. And it's not that bad. C'mon, it's football after all. And won't that first win over Tewksbury in (no, not that many years, really?) be all the more special coming on home turf? You bet it will. You will? I'll take that action.

Action is what football is all about. It has fast become my favorite spectator sport for a host of reasons, not least of all the atmosphere (though a pro football crowd can be altogether a bit hairy, at the high school level it's as close to perfect as spectator sports can be and with colleges involved it just may be perfect). True, football is a brutal game, but it's brutality in which everyone knows the score coming in, and, going out. Score is the reason why so many of us love sports, I largely suspect. We keep score of everything in life, in some way, by awards, salaries, price tags, calories, record charts, speed limits, exit polls. In sports, they keep it for us and illuminate it on big boards. In football, the most statistically monitored game of them all, they are all there for us to pore over, contemplate, and analyze. From heights and weights going in to rushing averages on first down coming out, it's all there in football and it all starts this weekend.

Miss Susan O'Keefe last week added the final punctuation (she's hanging parentheses here) in preparation for this week's opener (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

Ipswich River low - task force urges restricted water use

Despite recent showers, flows in the Ipswich River are so low that fish and other river life are in danger, according to the Water Supply Task Force, which has been evaluating the river since last winter.

The Task Force is issuing this advisory to request that the public restrict water use to essential needs.

The flows now occurring in the Ipswich are well below those needed to sustain a healthy river ecosystem, and are in the range where significant environmental degradation can occur, according to recommendations by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and others. Last summer, miles of the river ran dry, killing thousands of fish and other creatures.

The low flows result in part from water withdrawals by 15 communities which use the basis for public water supply. Even communities using wells as the source of their water have a big effect on flows.

The communities which draw water from the Ipswich River watershed are Beverly, Burlington, Danvers, Hamilton, Ipswich, Lynn, Lynnfield, Middleton, North Reading, Peabody, Reading, Salem, Topsfield, Wenham and Wilmington. Many private well users in Boxford and other towns also draw from this river basin.

"This is a problem which all of us can help to solve by using less water," said Kerry Mackin of the Ipswich River Watershed Association, which has been monitoring the river's condition. "The place to begin saving water is in our yards, because grass can survive for a while without water - but fish can't. Last year, we had large fishkills at the same time tens of thousands of lawn sprinklers were keeping lawns green."

"Some water departments have to pump two to three times as much water in the summer - just when the river can least afford it," according to Bruce Blanchard, water superintendent in Wenham.

Installing efficient showerheads, faucets and toilets can save water and will pay for themselves quickly in reduced water and sewer or septic maintenance bills, according to Blanchard.

The task force is made up of representatives of communities which use the river basin for water supply, federal and state environmental agencies, businesses, county and planning agencies, environmental organizations, sportsmen and other interests.

For more information or to find out how you can save water, call Kerry Mackin at the Ipswich River Watershed Association at 508-356-8939; John Gregoire at MWRA, 717-242-6000, or Mike Gildesgame at the Department of Environmental Management, 617-727-3267 (Ext. 585).

Also, residents should note that the last registration day for the September package will be Tuesday, September 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

MassBank shortens it's name

MassBank has shortened its name from MassBank for Savings to MassBank. The shorter name will be phased into the Bank's signage, advertising, documentation, and other areas over the upcoming days and months.

MassBank President Gerard Brandi said that the new name better reflects the Bank's wide range of services. Mr. Brandi said "We consider ourselves one of the area's leading Savings Banks, but we are also a leader in many other financial services, and it is important that our name reflects that fact."

MassBank is a Massachusetts chartered savings bank with $880 million in total assets as of June 30, 1996.

The Bank operates 14 banking offices in Reading, Chelmsford, Dracut, Lowell, Medford, Melrose, Stoneham, Tewksbury, Westford and Wilmington, providing a variety of deposit, lending and trust services.

In Memoriam

Marjorie Chauncey

God saw you getting tired and a cure was not to be, so he put his arm around you and whispered "Come with me" and with tearful eyes we watched you and saw you pass away. Although we loved you dearly, we could not make you stay. A golden heart stopped beating as handsome you rest, God broke our hearts to prove to us he only takes the best. Sadly missed on your Birthday.

Love,
The Plummer Family

Cold cuts without shortcuts.

Boar's Head products are made the same way they were made 80 years ago. Before mass technology messed things up. Cured the old-fashioned way, trimmed the old-fashioned way, sold the old-fashioned way. Without artificial colors or flavors without scraps or trimmings without cereal or extenders. Boar's Head isn't pre-sliced, pre-wrapped, pre anything. It's sliced fresh right in front of you. The way deli meats were meant to be. Insist on our fine quality deli meats and cheeses. Because at Boar's Head, we would never sell you short.

Mrs. Sanford guides her second graders through the first day of school at the Dewing in Tewksbury today. Some 19 years ago, this newspaper guy had his first day of third grade at the Dewing School under the tutelage of Mrs. Sanford, who would proceed to teach me my multiplication tables (7 times 8 is 56 - see?) Mrs. Sanford left school at Thanksgiving that year on maternity leave. Her son, born in January the next year, is now going off to college this fall. It is amazing how after all these years the pieces of a puzzle long stored away finally come together. But more amazing still is that Mrs. Sanford, who once showed me that 7 times 9 equals 63, unlocking great secrets of the world in the process, hasn't aged a day in 19 years (photo by Jeff Nazzaro).

Homework tips

As students return to school during the next few weeks, they also return to the public library with their homework assignments. Librarians suggest the following tips to help students with school assignments that require using the public library.

1. Start your assignment early. Other students may be looking for the same material you need.
2. Take a copy of your assignment to the library. If the teacher does not provide a printed copy of the assignment, write down the assignment in class.
3. If you can't find what you need, go to the reference desk and ask the librarian for help.
4. If you can't find a book on your topic, the librarian can help you find information in other sources, such as, encyclopedias, newspapers, magazines, and the Internet.

Remember to take you library card.

6. Take a pen or pencil and paper or note cards.

7. Take money for the photocopy machine. Reference books and books on desk reserve cannot be borrowed. You may need to make a copy of the information in these books.

8. If the computer catalog shows that the book you need is at another library, you can fill out a request card and the book will be sent to our library. If you need the book "Yesterday," inform the librarian. It usually takes seven days or longer for your book to arrive. The librarian can call the library that owns the book and have it held for you and you can go there to check it out.

The library staff is here to help you have a good school year. Welcome back!

Homework help for Parents

The library has the following books which help parents deal with the issue of homework.

Taming the Homework Monster: how to make homework a positive learning experience for your child by Ellen Klavan; Homework without Tears by Lee Canter; Ending the Homework Hassle: understanding, preventing, and solving school performance problems by John K. Rosemond.

Library hours

The library will be closed Monday, Sept. 2, Labor Day; Saturday hours resume September 7; the library will be open 9 to 5.

TOWN CRIER, AUGUST 28, 1996

At the Heath Brook School in Tewksbury Joseph Quilty got a pointer on his very first day at school from his teacher, Mrs. LaMotte. The assignment was to mimic her creation on the board depicting herself, her house, her family and her hobbies. Joseph's hobby, or favorite thing to do is Field Trips, a dream to come true later in the day as the class would take a "field trip" through the Heath Brook School.

AMERICAN GUTTER CLEANING CO. (508) 851-6045

Family values are important to you. You make decisions based on how they will affect your loved ones. It follows that you would want your home improvements done by a business that applies the same family values in everything they do.

American Gutter Cleaning Co. is that kind of family run company. Joe Rocha established the American Gutter Cleaning Co over 10 years ago. He and his wife, Carol, run the company, along with their highly trained, reliable, and fully insured staff.

If gutters aren't cleaned at least once or twice a year, you could be increasing the chance of interior water damage to your home. It's important to have your gutters cleaned and inspected for minor damage before the New England snow and ice arrive, and also in the spring after the maples and other trees have dropped their flowers or any remaining leaves.

If you're like most people and don't look forward to climbing up a ladder to do the job yourself, let American Gutter help you keep that ladder in the shed where it belongs. Their service is prompt, and their prices are reasonable; an average house, with aluminum gutters, is $35-$75. If you purchase a Gutter Cleaning Contract, which includes two cleanings per year, you'll enjoy a 10% discount and receive a free gutter inspection. And now, in addition to cleanings, American Gutter will install your new gutters. If you're planning to install 100 ft or more of new gutters, take advantage of their special $50 discount.

To make arrangements and become a valued customer of the American Gutter Cleaning Co., call (508) 851-6045 today! Don't you think it's well worth it?

So next week you won't want to miss the Sports Section as I will preview the football team will new head coach Bob Almeida, the boys and girls soccer teams as well as the field hockey team. Don't miss out at what could be the start of a terrific fall season at WHS.

Pitching the game in Over 35 Wilmington Adult Softball League

by Jamie Pote
Another season of Wilmington Adult Softball is now just about to have all three of their leagues into playoff action. Already the Co-Ed Slow Pitch League and the Industrial League have started playoff play with several great games - the third league, the Over 35 will start their playoff next week.

As the Over 35 Division regular season is coming to a close, it seems as if any team can beat any other team on any given night, so there really isn't a clear-cut favorite.

However, Rocco's led the league with a 13-4 record with several heavy hitters such as Mike Herra, Rich and Jimmy Rappoli as well as Tony Butler. The pitching of Tom Southmayd and Bill Sinopoli hope to lead Rocco's to their second straight championship and their fourth of the decade.

Three Sons Contracting is just one game behind the frontrunners and this group has been playing together since the 1920's Depression (just kidding, it only seems that way). Bobby Butters, Mark Blaisdell and Steve Brander look to cause some havoc for 3 Sons.

As for the other teams, the Lions Club and Stelio's are much improved and they could make some noise in the September series. Uptown Deli and Brothers Pizza are two more talented teams who are experiencing inconsistent play thus far.

Finally, Charlies Auto Body has been playing since the Depression

Days as they have four players who are at least 60 years old. Dave Newhouse, Sr. is one of the four as he has been doing the bulk of the pitching. Bob Brown (catcher), Ted Wicks (first base) and Joe Duffy (second base) make up four very experience players who could help the struggling 2-15 team turn things around in the double elimination tournament.

As for the Industrial League, powerhouses NAPA and Analog Devices should be the favorites and they probably will duke it out in the finale.

And in the Open Co-Ed League, Robarge Landscaping, Peterson Club and Colonial Liquors have the first round wins as Northeast Development, Brothers Pizza and United Travel try to get out of the loser's bracket. United Construction are the heavy favorites and they showed why when they beat up Colonial Liquors in the second round, 15-2 to send CPL to the loser's bracket.

Here are the results from last week:

Over 35
Lions Club	5
Brothers Pizza	4

An unearned run in the bottom of the seventh inning allowed the Lions Club to win the game as they unlocked a 4-4 tie.

Tommy Woods and Chuck Osgood matched up in another terrific pitcher's duel as the former allowed just six hits and the latter allowed nine as he won it despite giving up a four-bagger to Steve Vassallo.

Rocco's	22
Stelio's	21

With seven runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, Rocco's won the slugfest in an impressive come-from-behind-victory. Steve Asselin, Larry Cushing, Mike Herra and Bob Ritchie combined to go 14-for-19 to lead the 22 runs.

As for Stelio's, Mike Griffen, Roy Anderson and John Engdahl combined for eleven hits including five from Griff.

3 Sons Contracting	27
Stelio's	5

It was all 3 Sons as everyone (but one) on the team had at least two hits in the slugfest. Bobby Butters had four hits, while, Artie Bibeau and Mark Blaisdell had three hits each.

Brother's Pizza	9
Uptown Deli	5

A 3-run shot by Artie Sugrue led BP past UD to the 9-5 win behind the solid pitching of Tommy Woods who limited UD to just four hits.

Stelio's	12
Charlies Auto Body	1

A 9-run fourth inning broke a 1-0 score as Stelio's roped Charlies who continue to try to get out of the cellar. John Engdahl and Dan Bamberg had two hits each in the winning effort.

3 Sons Contracting	13
--------------------	----

----------------	---

A ten-run first inning by 3 Sons set the tone as they took this one with ease, 13-3. Bobby Butters went deep and Roy Bromander had four hits.

Slow Pitch Playoffs
Robarge Landscaping	14
Brother's Pizza	5

A three-run tater by Kevin Dunnett was one of his three hits of the day as he led RL past BP in first round playoff action. Bill Sidlowski also went deep in the winning effort.

Greg Maiella had two hits in the losing effort. Lisa Timulty had a very strong defensive game.

United Construction	15
Colonial Park Liquors	2

Tim Moran's two homers and Rob Santos shot led UC to a 15-2 triumph. Jay Barrett, Mike Connell, Derek LeBlanc, Ernie Peabody, Danny Santos and Rob Santos had three hits each in the win.

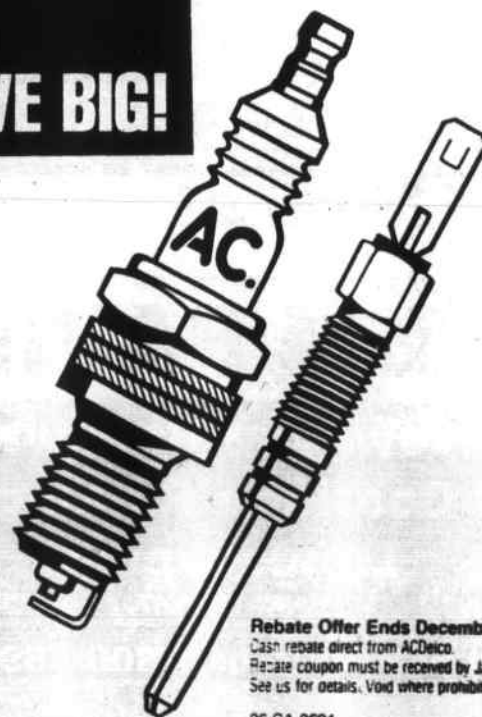

Mike Lombard went deep in the losing effort.

Can Dalls still win with injuries and suspensions?

by Jamie Pote
Dallas Cowboys

America's team, the Cowboys, should continue its winning tradition as they appear to be a Super Bowl contender once again.

Even with injuries and suspensions to several of their big players including Emmitt Smith, Jay Novacek and Michael Irvin, the Boys are still one of the leagues elite teams.

Irvin will be gone for the first four games of the season -- Chicago, N.Y. Giants, Indianapolis and Buffalo -- and look for Deion Sanders to do a good job in his place as receiver. Herschel Walker's addition could be meaningful, especially in those first few games if Smith is out too.

A big test for them in those four games will be Troy Aikman. Aikman doesn't throw for many touchdowns, but he always comes through in the big games so no one can say he is overrated. But look for him to have huge numbers in those first four games.

The Cowboys defense is solid and if they go 3-1 in those four games, then there won't be too many teams that will be able to stop them again.

Record: 12-4

Philadelphia Eagles -- If this team was in the AFC, they would probably be picked to go to the big dance. The Eagles are a solid two-way team and if they had a big-time quarterback, they might be stronger than the Boys, 49'ers and Packers.

Rodney Peete does a decent job as the QB and with the likes of Ricky Watters as running back and Calvin Williams and Irving Fryar as wide-outs, Peete looks like he belongs in the elite class.

Their defense is top notch, one of the better groups around. Boston College's own Mike Mamula should really help as a defensive end.

Record: 11-5

N.Y. Giants -- With quarterback problems and no wide receivers worth noting, it looks as if the Giants struggles will continue for another year. Hopefully, for them, Tyrone Wheatley will have a huge year.

Record: 6-10

Washington Redskins -- The Skins have pretty good receivers and a decent running game with Terry Allen leading the way, but their biggest question is at quarterback - if either Gus Frerotte or Heath Shuler can have a big year, then maybe the Skins can surprise a few teams. But that case is highly unlikely.

Record: 4-12

Arizona Cardinals -- Any team who has Boomer as their starting QB is in for trouble. When will this franchise ever stop settling for second and in this case fourth tier players?

Record: 3-13

NFC Central
Green Bay Packers -- Ever since Reggie White jumped on board of the Green Bay Packers team, I have said that they would either go to the Super Bowl and win it or they would lose in it also. But, this year, perhaps is the year.

Offensively, Brett Favre is among the best in the game at QB. He has a lot of stars to throw to including Robert Brooks, Don Beebe, Edgar Bennett and Mark Chmura, so the offense alone should put up huge numbers, not failing to mention Bennett as a top notch running back.

Defensively, they are also among the best with White leading the way. Is their any one better?

Record: 14-2

Detroit Lions --

I'll admit even though I don't like Scott Mitchell, he put up some awesome numbers last year and it appears he should be able to do the same if not better this year. Herman Moore and Brett Perriman are a superb 1-2 punch not to mention the explosive Barry Sanders who rushed for 1500 yards last season.

Defensively they are solid except for secondary - but hopefully, that won't hurt them too much.

Record: 12-4

Minnesota Vikings --

Every year I pick on the wife beater who checks in and out of nursing homes and psychological homes, and Warren Moon continues to put up great numbers year after year that I pick on him. The Vikings are a solid team and a few breaks here or there can make them into contenders, but Moon will mess it up somehow.

Record: 7-9

Chicago Bears -- The addition of Bryan Cox as a linebacker should really boost this team, but somehow I can't get excited knowing that Erik Kramer is looked upon to lead this team to a successful season.

Record: 6-10

Tampa Bay Buccaneers -- With upgrades in their defensive game, the Bucs shouldn't see anymore 35-0 defeats, and with a decent offense of Trent Dilfer throwing to Alvin Harper and handing the ball to Errett Rhett, things appear to be upbeat in the land of Tampa Bay.

Record: 6-10

NFC West
San Francisco 49'ers -- Steve Young reeling back and Jerry Rice making diving catches left and right, already makes the 49'ers a Super Bowl contender even if they don't field a defense. Oh yeah, throw in Brent Jones, J.J. Stokes, William Floyd and Derek Loville and the 49'ers have one of not the best offensive squads in football.

Defensively, who cares?

Record: 14-2

Carolina Panthers --

A team on the rise and a team who really could make a big splash this year. Kerry Collins should have a big year and the addition of Tim Biakabutka should add another dimension of play to the squad.

Defensively, they will survive.

Record: 9-7

St. Louis Rams -- Another team who could make drastic improvements if they had a real quarterback. Drafting Lawrence Phillips will at least let fans realize that that St. Louis does have a football team.

Record: 8-8

Atlanta Falcons -- As soon as I started to think what I would say about the Falcons, I immediately thought that I hate

Jeff George - I think I hate too many NFL quarterbacks.

Record: 7-9

New Orleans Saints -- We have a winner as the Saints have won "The Most Boring Team Ever to be Assembled in National Football League History."

Record: 2-14

Pote's Predictions: AFC -- Pats lose to Raiders in AFC Title game. NFC -- Packers and 49'ers clash for an incredible game with the Packers winning it in the final minute. Super Bowl -- Packers 46 Raiders 24

THE SEASON FOR SELLING HOUSES

We hear a lot of talk about which months are the most lively one for getting our listings sold. Many people think the ideal time to put a house on the market is when the azaleas are in bloom and the grass is the greenest. In many parts of the country, the "spring market" is thought of as the real estate industry's Christmas season.

There are important factors that strongly influence the sale of houses. Interest rates, the availability of local employment, tax rates, and the overall economic health of the community all play a large part in determining how quickly homes move and how well the sellers will do at the closing table. Your home may sell quickly during a month when the weather is gloomy but the interest rates are low. Waiting for spring flowers to bloom before planting your "For Sale" sign may improve your home's curb appeal, but may not have as much effect on the sale of your home as interest rates that go up as quickly as your tulips.

Wilmington senior topics

This is the last week of August; next Monday is Labor Day. The center will be closed, the minibus and respite drivers will not be on the road. Please make appointments accordingly.

Senior fair

The Senior Fair is just three months away. Marilyn is happy now with the number of chance books being taken and the number of seniors coming back for one or two more books. We have started to receive a few excellent articles for the tables. Many knitted articles and new gifts for the Christmas gift table are coming in, but many more will be needed to fill all the tables to make the fair a success.

With only a few months left, we will all have to start making mittens, scarves, hats and sweaters for knitted, or knitted and sewing table. When shopping if you see a toy a child would like, you may be able to buy it for the table. Please do not bring clothes for the White Elephant table to the center now, we do not have the space to store them. All these gifts will be accepted on the day of the fair.

Classes this week

This week's classes and programs will be: Monday, exercise class from 10-11 and art class from 1-3; Tuesday, shop class from 9 a.m. to noon; Wednesday, exercise class from 10 to 11 and craft class in the craft room from 9 a.m. to noon; Thursday, ceramic class from 9 a.m. to noon; the dance class from 1-2:30 and starting at 1:30 the nurse will be checking blood pressures; Friday exercise class is from 10 to 11 and bingo from 1 to 2:30.

Cholesterol screening
The nurse will conduct a cholesterol screening Tuesday, Sept. 24. The month of September is being set aside as National Cholesterol Education Month. We are continually being warned about the danger of a high cholesterol level on our health. We pay little or no attention to the warnings. We continually abuse ourselves by over indulging in the wrong foods, taking little or no exercise and many will continue to smoke. With heart disease rising rapidly, September has been selected to educate the nation on how important it is to know what cholesterol is and how it can be controlled.

Cholesterol is a white waxy fat found naturally in the body. Its purpose is used to build cell walls and make certain necessary hormones, to keep us healthy. It is when there is too much cholesterol that the arteries can become clogged, blocking the blood supply to the heart. This will lead to cardiovascular disease, arteriosclerosis, massive heart attack, or stroke. Anyone with a risk factor should have their cholesterol level tested.

A risk factor could be high blood pressure, a smoker, lack of physical activity, a family history of heart disease, a diabetic or too much over weight. To reduce your risk of heart attack or stroke, it is essential that you obtain a desirable cholesterol level, to do so, the Heart Association recommends the following:

Stop smoking, (this is a big contributor), change the fat content in your meals by reducing saturated fats, found in butter, whole milk, cheese, ice cream, red meat, palm oil, coconut oil, egg yolks, commercially prepared cookies, cakes and pies. They recommend you increase your intake of water soluble fiber, found in oat brand, legumes and fruits of all types, chicken and fish for main dish, vegetables such as broccoli, cauliflower, beans and carrots.

Cook, bake or fry with canola oil, sunflower, corn, soybean or olive oils. Make your own salad dressing, as most prepared salad dressings contain oils that contribute to high cholesterol levels. We all want to stay healthy and be able to enjoy our life as long as we can. Unfortunately there is no doctor or pill that can be taken to keep us healthy. We are the only ones given the will power to do that. Medical providers can only recommend how to do it. We have to abide by the recommendations and make sure we follow them.

Horse Salve Eases Arthritis Pain

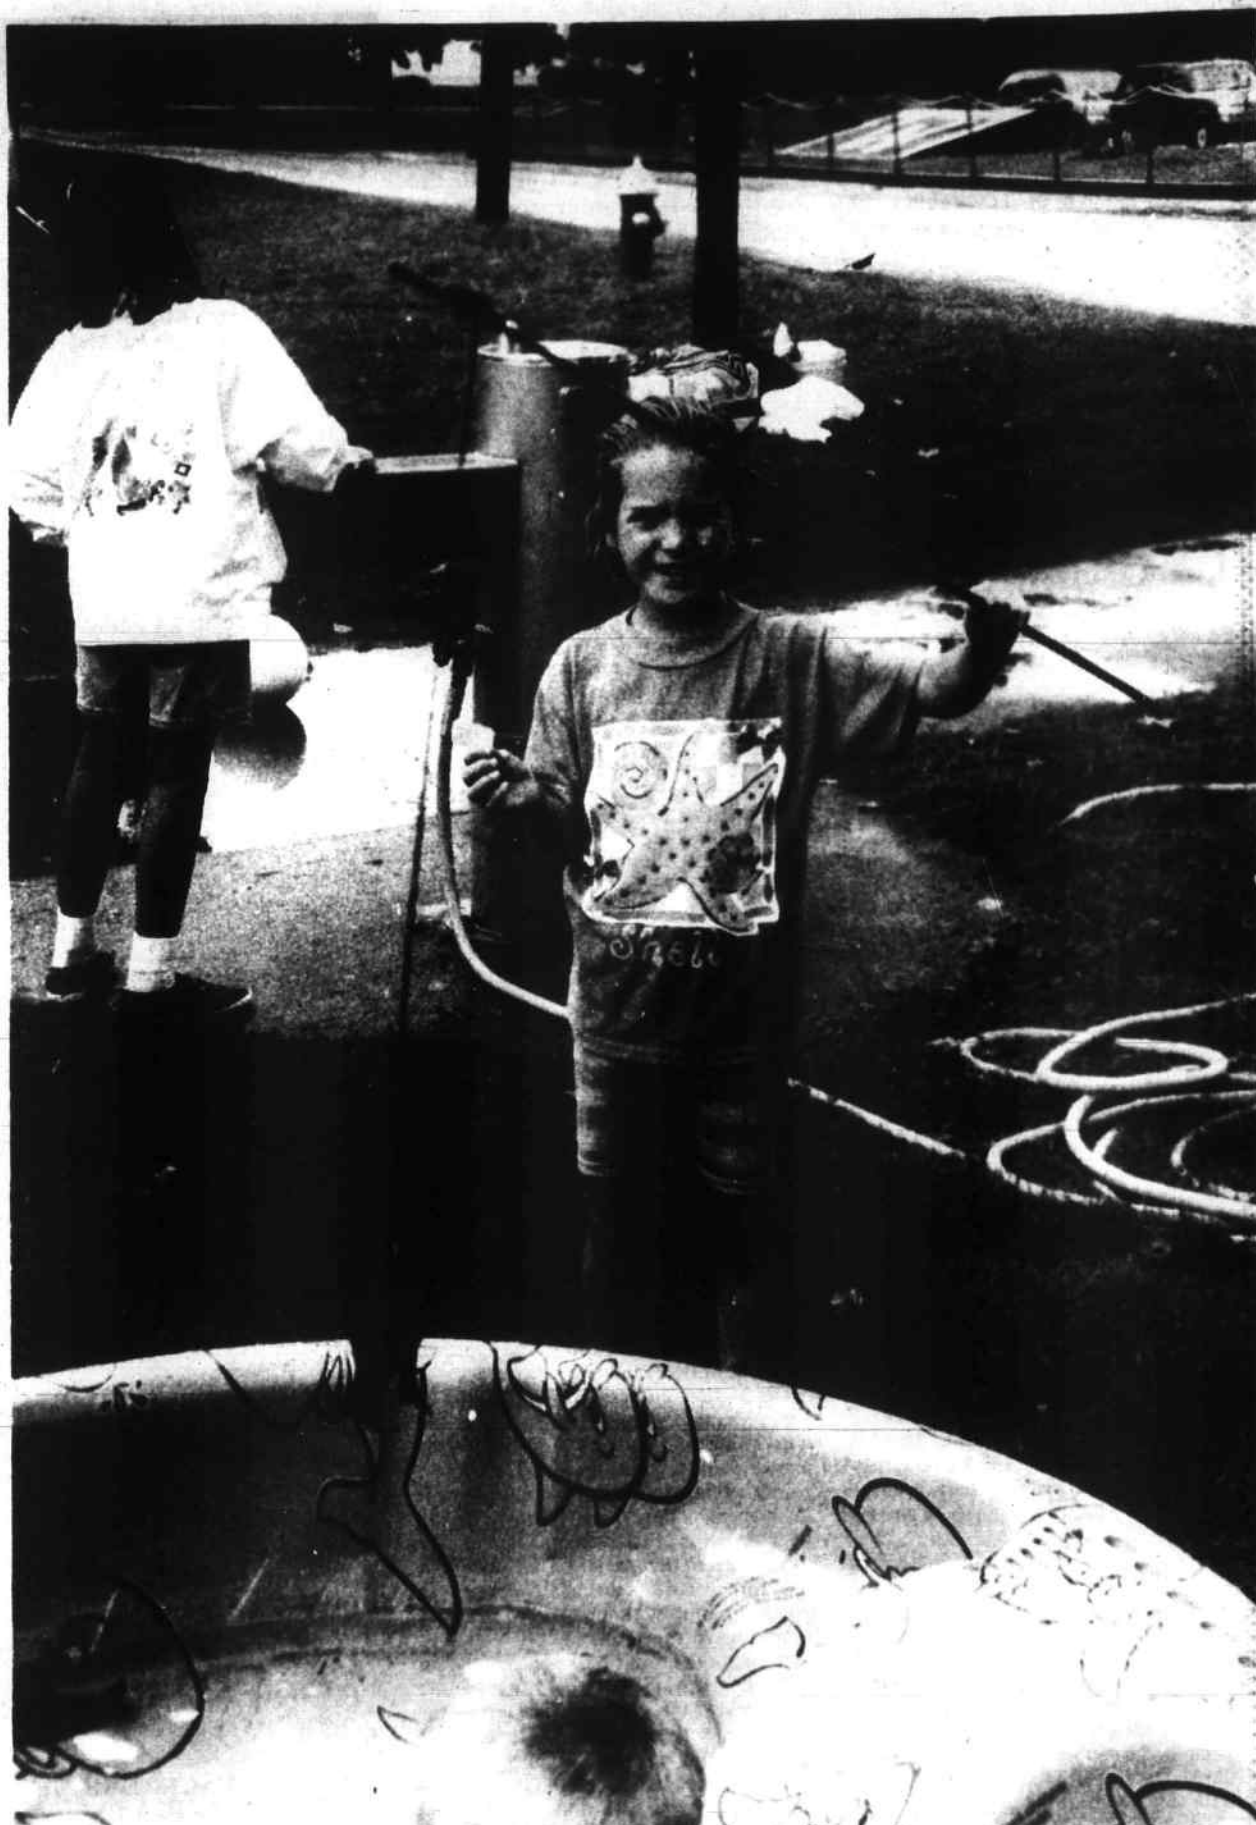

LOUISVILLE, KY -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, has now been approved by government researchers for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx®. ARTH-Rx comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain.

ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. © 1996 PG

ARTH-Rx is available locally at: VILLAGE APOTHECARY 211 Lowell St. Wilmington 658-2826

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

There's one baseball player in Tewksbury that has followers of the national pastime talking about a future in the big leagues, the first time that has happened since CHRIS MADER donned a Tewksbury uniform and crouched behind home plate in the late 1980's.

The player is JOE SUPRENANT, and many people who follow the sport in that town feel that he could someday surpass Mader's numbers as well as his professional career, which reached no higher than the Chicago White Sox minor league system.

This past weekend Suprenant took part in the Blue-Green

Classic Baseball Tournament in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, playing for Team New England at Wake Forest College. He was due to fly back to Boston yesterday.

Suprenant apparently didn't know much about the team when he went to an open tryout camp at UMass-Amherst back in July. About 30 players were at the camp, and only the top 20 players were chosen for Team New England.

Suprenant has been keeping busy playing baseball this spring and summer. He donned the mask and pads for Tewksbury Memorial High School, played in the annual Bay

State Games, and toiled for the Lowell Legion team for the past two years, attracting the attention of more than one professional baseball scout.

He has attended open tryout camps for the Boston Red Sox, the Colorado Rockies, and the Kansas City Royals, and plays in a league (Legion baseball) where four players from last year's teams were drafted by professional baseball teams, with two players currently playing for the LOWELL SPINNERS.

Suprenant is currently getting ready to start his senior year at Tewksbury High, and is hoping to attract the attention of some Division 1 coaches next spring, and earn a scholarship to play baseball.

SPORTS SHORTS

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: With the U.S. Open getting underway this week, this space turns its attention to the tennis sports world with this question: In tennis, what is a Double Chrissie. Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

Former Wilmington High football coach GERRY SULLIVAN is getting ready for his first game as an assistant coach for Merrimack College on September 14, when the Warriors take on Western New England College.

Former Wilmingtonite KERRILYMAN is preparing to finish out her brilliant career playing field hockey for Merrimack College this fall.

Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? It is named after a famous professional player, and has nothing to do with former Reading High standout CHRISSE CERRETANI.

The READING LIONS CLUB 10th Annual Journey for Sight Road Race will be held at 10 am on Saturday, September 28. The five-mile race will begin at Memorial Park in Reading (rain or shine) and is open to anyone who wishes to compete. There is a $10 entry fee, and all the proceeds from the race will be donated to the Mass. Lions' Eye Research Fund. Awards will be presented to the top finishers in the 18-and-under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60-69, and 70-plus categories. For more information call Don Cowan at 617-944-2600 or 508-747-9535.

MT. HOOD COUNTRY CLUB will be hosting the first annual Benefit Golf Tournament for the Massachusetts State Association of the Deaf (MSAD), which will be held on Friday, September 20. Tee-off for the event is at 8 am. A buffet lunch will follow the round of golf. The entry fee is $75, and prizes will be awarded.

Methuen's JOE CERAMI, a senior running back from Bentley College, has been named to the pre-season Division 2 All-America team. He is averaging 9.5 yards when he carries the ball, and had 1,052 yards last year during the season, and 229 in a postseason win against Stonehill College.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: A Double Chrissie is a player who has not only a double-handed backhand (like professional star Chris Evert), but who also has a double-handed forehand. Congratulations to those that answered the question correctly.

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Where's the fire?

'Okay, I'll buy my own...'

"During discussions about the fire department's annual budget, Finance Committee member Leann D'Entremont was disappointed to learn that $5,400 for fire hydrant marker poles was being deleted," notes the Tewksbury "Town Crier."

"When asked how much a marker costs, she was told $4.50 each. So D'Entremont quickly wrote a check for $4.50 to buy a marker for the hydrant in front of her home."

"Finance Chairman Ray Shaw later promised to transfer the $5,400 out of the reserve account to pay for markers for all 1,200 hydrants."

Making 'beelievers' of us

"Was it divine intervention or are they just excellent spellers?" notes the "Stoneham Independent."

"We may never know how they did it, but four members of the Stoneham clergy are the champions of the first annual adult spelling bee held this past Friday night at Town Hall."

"The 'Beelievers' defeated 22 other teams during a fun-filled 90 minutes to benefit the Stoneham Business and Community Educational Foundation. The event raised close to $5,000 for the organization that funds innovative programs for Stoneham's youth."

"The winning team, which was sponsored by attorney Mike Pinelli, was comprised of Capt. Rev. William Schmidt, Rev. John French, Rev. Scott Hendricks and Sister Mary Lou Cassidy, CSJ...."

"Despite the large selection of words, the one that put the 'Beelievers' into finals was ironically, 'eschatology,' the theology dealing with death."

A big win

"Phase 1 of the school master plan was approved by Town Meeting on a pair of overwhelming votes," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"After averaging more than two meetings a week for nearly a year, the Educational Facilities Planning and Building Committee's two motions under Article 17 carried by wide margins, 128-14 and 130-15."

"The first motion calls for borrowing some $90,000 for schematic drawings for a new elementary school at the Mystic school site."

"The second motion allows for the appropriation of $29.6 million to fund the construction of a new elementary school, the complete renovation of the middle school, and spending $520,000 to upgrade the Lincoln School."

"The plan includes a state reimbursement of 63 percent, which would bring the bottom line for local taxpayers to about $11 million."

"While getting such a strong vote of approval at Town Meeting is just what proponents of the master plan had hoped for, the big hurdle comes in November when the question goes on the ballot."

"Winchester has never passed an override question, but town officials believe that if the voters are ever going to vote for an override, this might be the one."

ANTHONY MANCONI

Folks, the people of East Boston live under the protective Mantilla of the Statue of the Madonna 'Queen of the Universe'. The Shrine is up high on the hill in an area of natural beauty and tranquility. It is indeed a sanctuary for prayer and meditation. As I kneel before it, I see a beautiful bronze statue, the work of an inspired master craftsman and genius, I also see a symbol of dedication and gratitude for an answered prayer and fulfillment of a vow made during World War II, by a hopeful Jewish Sculptor, Mr. Arrigo Minerbi.

Twinkle, Twinkle TV set, don't give out on me yet. The repair bills are up so high and my bank account is a little shy.

My Aunt Nora was told by her doctor to take two pills two hours before eating. She hasn't taken any pills yet because it's 'never' two hours before eating for Aunt Nora.

Do you like paintings by famous artists? Would you like to see one of the most beautiful masterpieces ever created? Then, come with me some early morning. Where? Revere Beach of course. You will see the Glorious Sunrise as it majestically bursts up through the horizon. You will raise your voice with mine (I'm sure), saying, "Oh Lord how Great Thou Art."

Folks, life is not a bowl of cherries. It's more like a bunch of Raisins. Raisin' money for the 'rent', 'taxes', repairs for the car and raisin' money for college bound children and much more.

Kathy came to me on her hands and knees this morning. She 'dared' me to come 'out' from under the bed.

'Woodchip's advice to our recent graduates, "It doesn't matter how high a mountain, tree or goal is, what is important is 'how High' do you intend to climb?"

George Gould told me that the Grand Canyon was started by a Scotsman who lost a penny in a ditch.

I wanted to cash a check and Janet Mugford said, "can you identify yourself?" "sure," I replied. "Have you got a mirror?" She handed me one and said, "here, look into it and please don't 'BREAK' it!"

The police were given front, right, and left photos of a bank robber. Two hours later Officer

Benefit to help pay medical bills for Brian Robertson

For some people, life is harder than for other. Brian Robertson, a 22 month old little boy, is one of these less fortunate people.

Brian suffers from a rare and untreatable neurological disease called Canavan Leukodystrophy. This disease will prevent Brian from ever walking, talking or sitting by himself. As of now, Brian can be picked up without much difficulty and uses a special stroller to get along. In the near future though Brian will need a high backed wheelchair and a wheelchair-accessible van to accommodate his needs.

The time and money that is needed to help Brian has been hard for his parents Allison Ek and Brian Robertson of Woburn. While Brian's father works full time, his mother needs to be home caring for Brian. She has to make sure that Brian gets to his many different appointments necessary for his constant medical care.

The family and their friends have been very helpful through this difficult time. They have organized a committee to plan a benefit to help defray the costs of the medical bills. The benefit is set for September 21 at the Sons of Italy Hall in Woburn. They are accepting donations if you would like to contribute to this worthy cause. For information about tickets please call Rosemary Parziale at (617) 938-4337.

readership. The number and originality of photos submitted this year was terrific and the judges used three measures for the contest 1. Quality of photo, 2. Composition of photo, 3. Originality. Trying to decide on the winners was a difficult and lengthy process.

The rules of the competition were very simple and there were a number of local drop-off spots for the photos and necessary information. The contest deadline for entries was last Friday, August 23rd.

There were no restrictions on what type of animal photo entered, just that it be a pet.

The entries were many and varied and we at Middlesex East thank everyone who entered. A number of other "Finalist Photos" appear inside today's Middlesex East. We hope you enjoy looking at them as much as we did judging them.

Chatterjee has 19 years direct industry experience with U.S. and Indo-European companies.

This six week course, limited to 25, will meet Mondays, September 9 through October 21 (no class October 14), from 7 to 9pm at the college's Andover extension site located at the Greater Lawrence Technical School, 57 River Road.

WEDNESDAY/THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 29, 1996-PAGE S-5

The course costs $66.

The tip of the iceberg

Honoring excellence

"The Medford Education Foundation (MEF) presented Recognition of Excellence awards to ten school system employees. The awards were presented by Mayor Michael J. McGlynn and MEF Director Len Braut," notes the "Medford Daily Mercury."

"The recipients were selected from a field of nominations submitted by teachers, parents, students and associates of the employees. Any public or private school system employee is eligible for nomination."

"The evaluation of the nominations is performed by a committee consisting of volunteers from MEF and the community. Up to ten Recognition of Excellence Awards will be presented each year in this new program."

"Recipients receive a framed Certificate of Achievement and a minimum award value of $100 consisting of gift certificates to Boston area restaurants and theater performance tickets."

"MEF Recognition of Excellence awards are structured to acknowledge and publicize exceptional 'beyond the call of duty' commitment and performance. Each of the recipients have demonstrated extraordinary efforts that have resulted in benefits to their students, their school and often the entire education system within the city.

"Recipients of the 1996 awards include:"

Marsha Caron

"Marsha Caron, Coordinator of Fine Arts, for the advancement of the department's curriculum, activities and sense of solidarity. Caro... has teamed with the department members and outside resources, including Tufts and The Boston Conservatory of Music, to bring the fine arts program in Medford to new heights. In her tenure, the system has seen a renaissance in the high school band, the initiation of an expanded band, orchestra and choral performance schedule for all levels K-12. In the recent school year, the diverse elements of the department have worked together, such as featuring a fine art show in the lobby before and after a band concert."

Margaret Kane

"Margaret Kane, high school teacher, was honored with the World of Difference Teacher Incentive Award in 1995, and has been responsible for much of the restructuring of the college preparatory curriculum, in order to greater recognize cultural diversity. She has been active in numerous student-oriented community programs, pioneering a community service link within the English and Social Studies curricula in grade nine."

Also

Other Medford teachers honored for excellence are: Melinda Wahlman, fourth grade teacher at Gleason Elementary, for the development of unique programs built around student involvement and performance; Donna Carbonneau, teacher at Roberts Junior High School, for acting as the catalyst in the creation of a new literary publishing center; Richard Nelson, high school math teacher, for after-hours commitment to the welfare of his students; Linda Ames, representing a group of four teachers including Roberta Brown, Margaret Gillo and Loraine Larkin, teachers at Franklin Elementary, for teaming with Steven DiFlorio, Director of the Massachusetts Audubon Environmental Center to write a successful grant application for $8,000; Adelaine Cahill, bilingual language teacher at Columbus Elementary, for dedication in her work of assisting communications between the Portuguese-speaking students, teachers and parents; Paul Mattatall, physical Whenever I see a 'Nun,' 'teacher' or 'Nurse,' I instinctively think of 'Dedication,' 'Devotion to duty,' and 'love of people.' I agree that you and I may know someone in these categories who doesn't quite measure up to these standards. That should not diminish by one iota the respect and esteem we have for these wonderful people. We must bear in mind folks that 'one' of the 'Twelve Apostles' didn't measure up either.

My wonderful neighbors the Hill family was indeed a military family. Ralph won the Bronze Star in the army and Harold and Wallace Hill were in the Marine Corps in WW II. Harold was in the first and Wally in the 4th Marines.

When they were at Camp LeJeune, a Marine Sergeant barked out this order, "When I give the command 'Eyes Right' I want to hear your eyeballs CLICK!"

I love humorous bumper stickers like, "I owe, I owe, so off to work I go," and "Don't follow me, I'm LOST too."

When Diogenes visited Washington D.C. he went away a very disappointed man. It seems that he was looking for an honest man and someone 'stole' his lantern.

Blackie Vega shook Cardinal Law's hand and Blackie's whole right side went sober.

George 'Candyman' Capano had a great day on the golf course yesterday. He only fell out of the golf cart twice.

A window washer's lament, "In this business it's one 'pane' after another."

Sonny Pearlman asked the librarian, "where can I find the book How to Live Comfortably on Social Security?" "You'll find it the librarian said, "two aisles over in the Fiction Section."

Picturesque Cape in a desirable West Side location! Perfect family home features 3 bedrooms, 1-1/2 baths, beautiful pine floors, warm wood tones and country kitchen. Numerous updates include a new heating system, roof, recreation room and more! Large deck overlooks tranquil backyard.
A gem at $164,900.

Your home: Q & A

We are planning to wallpaper a child's bedroom without the help of a professional paperhanger. Do you have any suggestions?

If you can survive scanning endless pages of wallpaper books and find a pattern that suits your decor, color scheme and budget, hanging the wallpaper will come easy.

For your first job, choose a wallpaper that is easy to install, such as an inexpensive (less than $20 a roll) pretrimmed vinyl paper. Vinyl wallcoverings come paper-backed and fabric-backed, and both go up nicely. These papers don't stretch out of shape, even if you reposition them several times on the wall. Fabric-backed papers are more expensive and well suited for bathrooms or kitchens, where humidity can be a problem. Fabric-backed vinyls can be scrubbed and easily stripped off walls at a later date.

You can choose between prepast wallpaper and those requiring adhesive. Prepast paper only needs to be dunked or soaked in warm water to activate the paste impregnated in its back. Other wallcoverings are hung on the wall with an adhesive applied with a roller. If you use one of these papers, ask your wallpaper dealer for an appropriate adhesive.

Look for paper with a pattern repeat or drop of 10 inches or less. Pattern drop or repeat refers to a pattern's length (a repeat or drop of 10 inches is a pattern that repeats itself every 10 inches). The larger the drop, the more paper is wasted getting the pattern to align between the pieces.

You'll find the pattern repeat on the back of each pattern under 18 inches).

To calculate how much paper you need, first find the wall area. Add the length of each wall, and multiply this total by the ceiling height. Multiply the height of each door and each window by its width. Add the door and window areas and subtract this from the wall area. This gives you the surface area to be papered. Add about 20 percent to the total papered area to allow for the few bad cuts (inevitable on your first job).

Divide this number by the area that your wallpaper roll covers, and that's the number of wallpaper rolls that you tern in your wallpaper sample books and on the roll's wrapping. By choosing a pattern with a small repeat for your first project, you can avoid excessive waste.

Build success into your first attempt by choosing a simple bedroom. Don't try a bathroom, kitchen or two-story hallway at first.

Make sure the paper is from the same lot or batch. The batch number is stamped on each roll, and all the rolls should have the same number. If you run short and have to order extra paper later, you might get a roll from a different batch run. The color or repeat pattern might not match exactly, even if you order the same pattern from the same store.

Clean the walls thoroughly and repair holes, cracks or dents. Wash or paint the room's woodwork and trim. Unless the woodwork is natural or its paint is in good shape, it will probably look dingy next to the new paper. It's easier to paint it now than after the paper is in place.

First, look in the back of the wallpaper book for a notice that tells you the area of each roll. Most rolls of American wallpaper contain about 36 square feet of material. Allowing for waste due to the pattern drop and trimming, the roll covers about 30 square feet. A roll of European (metric) wallpaper contains about 28 square feet and covers about 23 square feet of wall (these are based on wallpaper with a drop

Liberty Elm Trees available

Picture this: A replica of Boston's famed Liberty Tree growing in your own town - a living tribute to the Sons of Liberty who took the first courageous steps toward freedom. Well, it can happen if your town is among the first to apply for a free ceremonial American Liberty elm with a commemorative plaque.

The original Liberty Tree claimed a place in American history. In 1646, the people of Boston Towne planted American elms on the narrow link of land between Boston and Roxbury known as Boston Neck. It was probably the first public shade tree planting in the New World.

On August 14, 1765, two effigies swung from one of these elms in protest of the Stamp Act. The elm became known as the liberty Tree, and for the next ten years it bore silent witness to meetings, speeches, and celebrations. It often served as a rallying point for the Sons of Liberty. In August 1775, as the British soldiers left Boston, they cut down this inspiring symbol of freedom.

How does a town become eligible to establish a Liberty Tree Memorial? Here are the requirements:

1. Be among the first 100 communities to apply.
2. Provide for permanent planting for your Liberty Tree in a public place approved by Elm Research Institute.
3. Agree to install a permanent fence around the tree, such as wrought iron or split rail, and a bench beside it, or a bench that surrounds the tree in place of a fence.
4. Install the handsome plaque provided by ERI on an appropriate, permanent marker, such as a flat based stone. The plaque tells the story of the original Liberty Tree.
5. Agree to plant 10 more American Liberty elms as the town's continuing commitment to restoration of its elms.

For more information, contact Elm Research Institute, Elm Street, Harrisville, NH 03450; phone 603-827-3048, fax 603-827-3794.
